

CAMPARI ACADEMY

ABOUT CARLO CARNEVALE

Proudly hailing from Napoli, in the South of Italy, Carlo Carnevale is a writer and drinks journalist with several years of experience, covering everything related to the bar industry. His main focus is on spreading the heritage and culture of the local bartending community, contributing to building and strengthening it before creating bridges with the international scene and pursue a healthy global network.

A proud native of Naples, Italy, is a seasoned writer and drinks journalist with a deep passion for the bar industry. With years of experience, Carlo has dedicated himself to showcasing the rich heritage and culture of the local bartending community. His work aims to foster growth within the Italian bar scene while building bridges with the international community, nurturing a global network of peers.